Volunteers celebrated in Hervey Bay

Volunteers at Fair Haven Hervey Bay Aged Care Services will be the guests of honour at a celebration luncheon, to say thank you to them for their dedicated and tireless efforts in sharing their lives and time with the community.

National Volunteer Week runs from 10-16 May and provides an opportunity to highlight the role of volunteers in our communities and to say thank you to the five million Australians who volunteer.

Fair Haven Hervey Bay's 30 volunteers will be recognised at the celebration on Tuesday 11 May. Director of nursing and care services Lynda Summers said their volunteers play an important role at the service, and this was one way of thanking them for their contribution.

"Volunteers at Fair Haven Hervey Bay help out in a variety of ways and each contribute to enriching the lives of our residents," Ms Summers said.

"Our volunteers assist with bus outings, activities, transport, meal times, and by providing companionship to residents.

"The luncheon is a small way to say thanks to each one of them, and will include a presentation of a certificate of appreciation and gift bag for each volunteer.

"Volunteers are vitally important to us, and we are always looking for more people who may be able to give a few hours of their time, even if it is only once a month. It makes such a difference to the lives of our residents and our current volunteers find it very rewarding as well."

Fair Haven Hervey Bay Aged Care Services is operated by Churches of Christ Care (Care). Care has more than 600 volunteers across Queensland who assist in their early childhood, child protection, housing and aged care services.
