High Altitude Harmony performs at the Nubeena Retirement Community

Toowoomba's newest male entertainment chorus will perform for the residents at Churches of Christ Care's Nubeena Retirement Community.

Named the High Altitude Harmony, the choir will entertain and delight the residents with all the old favourite carols at their special Christmas dinner.

According to the Nubeena Retirement Village, Retirement Living coordinator Jan Beutel, this is the first year the residents have enjoyed a Christmas dinner together.

"The residents are all very excited about the carol singing - they can't wait - they have been planning this for six months at least," Ms Beutel said.

"However, the highlight will be the dinner, which we are all looking forward to sharing together, and celebrating Christmas with friends and family.

"One of our residents will be doing a small Christmas devotion, we're not sure exactly what carols will be sung but they will be all the old favourites. The last carol will be sung to all the residents and will be We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Between 60 and 70 people are expected to be present for the Christmas dinner and the carols event.
